

Record Crop Moves To Market

Milo Dry, Combining Started

Medina County's biggest money crop, milo, which last year set an all time record as the biggest single crop in terms of dollars and cents ever produced in the county, finally dried out sufficiently for combining the first of this week and by Wednesday the combining had become a full scale county wide operation.

Market value of the maize started out here at $2.50, went to $2.55 and then dropped to around $2.40 per hundred Wednesday of this week with plenty of buyers in town looking for it. Price this year is considerably lower than last year when it opened at $3.25 and finally averaged out at about $2.80. The price dropped to $2.00 in West Texas two weeks ago when the Northern crops came in.

Every available combine and harvester is out in the fields this week and can't get to it fast enough as the hot sun dries it out ready for combining. The drought has caused a much lighter crop this year, but growers are getting much more than they expected thanks to the life-saving two and a third inch rain around the first of July. Some areas in the county are producing more even than last year.

Last year's record breaking crop, from about 20,000 acres, amounted to 146 cars, 16,448,397 pounds, with a total value of $460,555.

Buy Your Street Numbers, Chamber Urges

There are still a number of Hondoans who have not stopped in at the Chamber of Commerce office to pick up their residence and business house numbers, according to Sec.-Man. Allen Webster of the C. of C.

Numbers are available for every building in Hondo at no cost. Only payment necessary is a charge of $3 for each residence, $5 for each business house, to defray costs of erecting the street signs which are going up at every intersection in the city.

One hundred fifty one of the concrete signs have been delivered to date, and it is expected that they will be sufficient to cover the city. The sign posts will be two feet in the ground and four feet of their length will stand above the ground. Most of the posts have already been erected and the committee expects to finish the erection job by the end of this week or early next week.

Painting of street names on the signs is also expected to start next week, pending closing of a contract with some local men for the painting. The names of the streets will be painted on all four sides of the posts.

Committee working on the project includes R. L. Kollman, chairman; E. E. Kollman, W. E. Berger, H. C. Richards and J. H. Meyer.

$100 Per Month Saving Forecast When New Water Tanks Erected

At least $100 per month in cost of fire insurance will be saved by property owners in Hondo when the city completes building of the new water plant, according to the rough estimates of one local insurance man this week, while others guess that double that amount or more will be the monthly saving.

The new water plant, steel for which is scheduled for delivery in October, will include a 5,500 gallon ground storage tank and a 250,000 gallon raised tank. Homer Wilson, water works chief, already has completed foundations for the new tanks and is waiting only for the delivery of materials to complete the job.

The ground storage tank, Wilson said, will rest on top of the ground and will be 21 feet high and 20 feet in diameter. The raised tank will be 135 feet to the top and the name of the city will be painted on it in large letters. There will be a light at the top of the tank.

There are no plans at present, according to Wilson, to connect the city tank with the one on the field for a reserve supply. It would be possible, but the connecting with an 8 inch main would cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and the added size and height of the new tank would make it unnecessary and impractical.

Pressure will be nearly doubled, increasing from the present 30 pounds to 55 pounds, Wilson said, and residents at the edges of the city will no longer be troubled with low pressure. There will be an adequate supply of water for spraying lawns and gardens during the summer months.

Mercury Over 100 Degrees Five Times

Mercury in Hondo went to 100 or over on five different days of the week of July 14-21, and hit the highest point of the year, 104, on Saturday, July 18, when a fraction of an inch of rain fell on the city, according to H. E. Haass.

Lowest temperature of the week was 65 on Sunday, June 20, but for the rest of the week the night temperature was well in the 70's. On Wednesday, July 16, the temperature went to 100. Maximums on the next three days were 103, 102 and 104 respectively. Maximum on Sunday June 20 was a mere 85 and on Monday it again went up to 100.

TEXAS' BIGGEST LEGION HALL OPEN TO PUBLIC SATURDAY FOR GALA HONDO DANCE

The biggest American Legion hall in Texas, and as far as is known the biggest in the country, will be opened to the public for the first time Saturday night when Hal Jones Post No. 128 of Hondo stages the "Harvester Hop," a pre-dedication dance which promises to be one of the most gala events of the year in Medina County.

The huge hall, purchased from War Assets Administration by the City of Hondo for $5,500 and sold to the veteran organization for the same price, has a total of 18,500 square feet of floor space and formerly served as a mess hall and non-commissioned officers club when the Army Air Field was here. It is located just a few blocks North and a block East of the hangar occupied by the Hollaway Flying Service.

Entertainment committee for the affair is headed by Harry Filleman, and includes Marvin Grell, Ben Graff, Jr., Roy Kile, Harry Kollman, Jr., and Jerome Decker. Building committee which was charged with preparing the building for the dance is headed by Fred Bader, and included Robert Cosgrove, Harry Freeman, Jack Hartung, Jack Fitzpatrick, Ralph Stiegler and G. H. Finger.

For the dance the entertainment committee has contracted with L. D. Harris, the colored band which proved so popular a few months ago when four Hondo girls threw the Highway 90 League dance. Harris plays sweet music in a danceable manner which keeps the patrons on the floor instead of at the sidelines.

The legion also will serve refreshments in great variety to help cool the dancers. Dancing will be from 9 p.m. to 1 and all girls are invited to attend free.

The trades day will also be moved this week to the southwest corner of the plaza to allow for more shade for participants and spectators.

Ball game will feature the Hondo Blues, a team of Latin American teen-agers, and the colored team managed by Frank Holden. Ladies of the Methodist church of Hondo will sponsor and conduct the refreshment stand.

Sec.-Man. Allen Webster of the C. of C. also announced that no tickets will be accepted on the Trades Day grounds. All tickets must be dropped in boxes at Hondo's business houses or at a box provided for that purpose at the office of the C. of C. before 2:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Local Parish Buys Chapel

At least one of the chapels on the former Hondo Army Air Field will remain in Hondo, purchased recently by Our Lady of Sorrows parish.

The chapel will be moved onto the block of the George Bendele addition, owned by Our Lady of Sorrows, in the near future. The block at present is vacant and the Hondo Bears baseball team have been using it for their home games.

With the chapel acquired the parish hopes soon to get a resident priest.

DEVINE CHURCH BUYS HONDO AIRFIELD BUILDING

DEVINE — The First Christian Church last Wednesday purchased one of the Officers Quarters buildings at the Hondo field and will move it here and build a parsonage on the Church property.

Another prisoner, a soldier, broke out of the Hondo jail a week ago around midnight, but was apprehended three hours later by police in San Antonio.

Break was discovered when Mrs. Schuchle thought she heard noises upstairs and went up to investigate. She found the soldier gone and called the sheriff.

Night watchman McLaugherty was first on the scene and did some super sleuthing to find out that the soldier had left town toward San Antonio in a pick-up truck. Deputy Hitzfelder then called Uvalde and San Antonio to put them on the lookout.

About 3 a.m. San Antonio police recaptured the escaped prisoner and he was put back in the Medina County jail in a cell.

GILLIAM SAYS HE IS NOT PLANNING TO LEAVE

Claude Gilliam is not planning to move out to Utopia, he said Thursday morning. Visiting the Anvil Herald office to subscribe for his son George, of Corpus Christi, he told the editor that folks had been asking him "why do you want to leave Hondo," and that he didn't intend to settle permanently at his place near Utopia, but just wanted to spend more time there.

So if you had thoughts of renting a house, don't call on the Gilliams. Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam are in Corpus Christi this weekend, anyhow.

Proceeds Will Top Record Maize Crop of 1946

Largest broomcorn crop Medina County has ever produced started rolling to market this week, in small quantities at first and then gaining momentum as the week advanced.

Acreage runs at about 6,000 acres this year, according to C. M. Merritt, County Agent, and it is estimated that production will be about four acres to the ton. Prices are somewhat better than last year averaging around $350 per ton. If the estimated production is right, and if the price holds, this year's broomcorn crop will be worth $525,000, greater by $70,000 than last year's record milo crop.

In the meantime threshers and balers are swamped with work trying to handle the enormous crop. The danger period is over when rain could have meant ruin, as the entire county crop has been pulled and stacked, and the ranchers have doubled their prayers for rain to bolster their pastures. Lack of rain has already had noticeable effect on late spring lambs.

Last year's broomcorn crop amounted to 1,000 tons and averaged $340 per ton for a total value of $340,000.

Bulk of the broomcorn crop will move from around Yancey, Quihí, Dunlay, D'Hanis, Devine and Hondo to markets in Hondo and Devine. Plenty of buyers are in Hondo this week ready to pay f. o. b. at the station.

May Lose Eye From Dog Bite

NATALIA — Dicky Sawyer of San Antonio may lose an eye as result of dog bites suffered while visiting his grandparents in Natalia last week.

Dicky was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Putman, and while playing in the yard he struck the dog with a stick. The dog attacked him and bit him about the face and caused several other cuts and bruises about the neck and head.

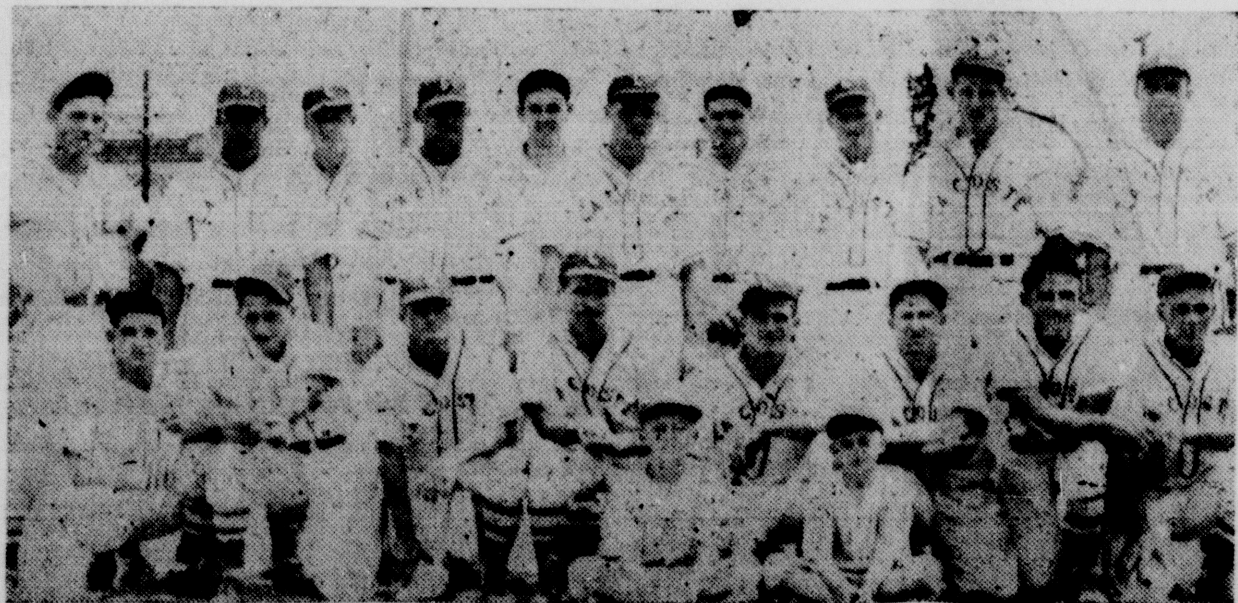

He was immediately rushed to a San Antonio hospital where it is feared that one of his eyes will be affected. The dog was killed and its head sent to Austin for analysis.

Mangold Home On Leave

With his right knee healing after injury in Japan recently, T-Sgt. Leon B. Mangold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mangold of Dunlay, is back in Medina County with his parents and his family again and reports that after seven years he has had enough of army life.

Sgt. Mangold has been released from Brooke General hospital where his knee was being treated but will report back there, his new assignment, when his current 40 day leave expires July 25.

During seven long years in the army Sgt. Mangold spent about 11 months all over the Pacific, recently returning from Japan where he was second baseman on the Fifth Airforces team. His current enlistment lasts until Oct. 9, 1948, and he reports that he has no intentions of staying in the army after that.

Many southwest farm markets developed easy spots last week, although the general trend of most commodities continued steady to strong, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cotton climbed to twenty year record levels of around 39 cents per pound or more last mid-week, but dropped back by Friday for net losses of $3 to $10 per bale. Spot activity increased, as new crop harvest progressed well in South Texas.

Winter wheat harvest made rapid progress in the Great Plains area last week.

Inadequate transportation and storage forced millions of bushels to be piled on the ground in Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas. Heavy buying for export held losses to 6 cents. Friday's price stood near $2.37 per bushel for No. 1 hard at Fort Worth and Galveston. Corn eased under favorable weather reports; and sorghums dropped 15 cents.

Hay moved slowly, as most farmers produced their own, and pastures held up well. Millfeeds took a sudden upward spurt, partly offsetting recent downward trends. Peanut harvest started in South Texas, with yields low on early plantings. Texas 8-months wools began to move as 12-month clips became scarce.

Best candled eggs sold firm to slightly stronger last week. Easier undertone developed on current receipts and undergrades following announcement discontinuing purchases of dried and frozen eggs after July. Poultry held about steady. Heavy hens sold at 23 to 25 cents per pound at Fort Worth and Dallas.

Cattle prices receded late last week from mid-week highs, but closing sales held mostly from about even with a week earlier to as much as $1 or more higher. However some spots netted losses up to a dollar for the week. Bulk of common and medium grass steers at San Antonio sold at $20 to $22.75, and average to top medium lots set a new all time high of $24.50. Houston paid $14 to $20 for common to medium steers and yearlings, while Fort Worth took medium kinds at $19 to $23.50.

Hogs advanced generally around 50 cents to $1 or more in last week's trade. Good and choice butcher hogs reached $26.25 at San Antonio, $26.50 at Fort Worth, $26.75 at Oklahoma City, $27.35 at Wichita, and $27.25 at Denver.

Most sheep sold steady to $1 higher last week, but spring lambs netted losses at Oklahoma City and Wichita, and feeder lamb fell lower at San Antonio. Medium low choice spring lambs turned at $18 to $21.50 at San Antonio, and medium to good kinds brought $20 to $24 at Fort Worth. Wichita took good and choice at around $24.

Watermelons and cantaloups eased some last week, as liberal shipments supplied most markets. Lettuce gained sharply, and sold as high as $7 per crate at St. Louis. Hot weather promoted spoilage and hampered movement of the large peach crop.

Colorado cabbage, cauliflower and other products were well received at may markets. San Luis Valley peas started moving and held steady at $3.25 per bushel for U. S. No. 1.

Chick Chatter

BY CLARENCE R. MUMME of MUMME'S HATCHERY HONDO, TEXAS

According to reports from Kingsville, Mr. G. E. Miller lost 45 four-pound fryers in one day by feeding newly combined grains only as a fattening ration to his birds. When Mr. Miller called his county agent to advise about the cause of his fryers dying, examination of the birds showed they had been poisoned.

To determine the kind of poisoning, Professor Joe C. Brown, of the A&I College faculty, was called in. He advised, after making a post mortem examination of one of the birds, that the trouble was caused by feeding newly combined grains only to his birds. Professor Brown said that he had just examined just such a case near Bishop, in Nueces County, a few days before. Mr. Miller was told to feed mash along with this grain.

It is natural for poultry raisers at this time of year when they are fattening birds for their freezer-lockers of for the market, or when they are fattening out young turkeys, to use their home grown feeds only. If the usual method of feeding mash during the day and feeding grain in the evenings is followed there is no danger using the newly ripened grains.

A bird which consumes plenty of mash is getting nearly all of the nutrients needed to meet bodily requirements. Thus it is extremely important that enough mash be made available in the feeders. Grains supply ample carbohydrates and fats, but sometimes chickens may overeat at the grain hopper and as a result do not consume enough mash to balance out the diet with the other essential food elements, lacking in grain.

Protein deficiency causes retarded growth and feather development in chicks as well as low egg production in adult birds.

Two of the most common deficiency diseases — rickets and slipped tendon—result from inadequate consumption of vitamins or minerals, or a combination of both.

Feeding, Parasites, Crowding
 A bird which develops symptoms of a nutritional deficiency disease may have reached this condition in one of several ways. Incorrect feeding methods often discourage or prevent birds from getting the food they need. Birds heavily infected with parasites do not utilize feed efficiently, and often fail to eat enough. A crowded poultry house may cause poor feeding for some chickens.

DEATH

RIDES WITH THE RECKLESS

One-fourth of all fatal accidents on the highways of our country and in the streets of our cities and towns are caused by speed. Reckless drivers—disregarding all the laws of traffic safety and common sense, urging onward automobiles catapulted by the power of a hundred horses—these were the prime killers in 1946.

Last year 33,500 persons—drivers, riders and pedestrians—died in automobile accidents. That's about one death every fifteen minutes. More than a million were injured, many of them maimed or crippled for life. This year the toll will be even greater, approaching an all-time high of 40,000 deaths—unless you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, call off this daily rendezvous with Death.

You can do your part to help stop this highway slaughter by personally striving for an accident-free record. Drive carefully at all times. Be considerate of other drivers and pedestrians. Gauge your speed to highway conditions and traffic requirements.

Don't let Death hang over your shoulder and point the way to the morgue. Drive safely—and live!

"Growing Pains" Might Prove Serious Symptom

The "growing pains" suffered by many children may not amount to much, and at the same time they may be the first warning of the childhood disease, rheumatic fever, says Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, family life education specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Statistics show, says Mrs. Johnson, that rheumatic fever causes more deaths among school-age children than any other disease in the United States.

Apart from "growing pains," other symptoms of rheumatic fever are loss of appetite and failure to gain weight; pain and swelling of first one joint and then another, usually accompanied by fever, jerky movements of the face, arms, and legs, especially when the child tries to dress or feed himself; and unexplained crying spells.

Mrs. Johnson urges parents to guard against rheumatic fever. Although the "growing pains" may not mean anything serious, it is a good idea to take the child to a doctor and find out.

Hay Quality Can Improve

Better methods of harvesting, curing and storing could mean a big rise in the quality of hay that is produced on Texas farms at this season every year.

The time of harvesting a hay crop, says E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist of Texas A. and M. College, has more to do with turning out good hay than many producers realize. When the crop is allowed to get too ripe, it becomes coarse and loses a great deal of its feed value, especially protein. Sudan grass and Johnson grass need cutting as soon as the first seed heads begin to form, or even earlier, to get a bale rich in feed value, says Miller. Producers have found that alfalfa makes the about one-tenth to one-fourth in bloom. Sweet clover, the agronomist says, is best cut before it begins to bloom.

After the close of the meeting, the group played some outdoor games.

Bohmalk Reunion

Held July 20

DUNLAY — The descendants of the Bohmfalk ancestors, who came to America from Germany as early as 1856 followed by others in 1884, 1888, and 1911, held their fifth reunion at Wernette's Garden at Castroville on Sunday, July 20.

A fair sized crowd gathered before noon and services were conducted by Rev. Weiss, a grandson of the late Rev. Freida Bohmfalk.

At noon the various family groups gathered at the tables and spread their basket lunches for a dinner.

After noon, the crowd grew larger, and they all assembled for a business session after which there were several highlights of the program. A quartet composed of Erwin Bohmfalk, Mrs. Clinton Wiemers, Mrs. Robert Riff and a Mr. Raeke sang a hymn in memory of those of the relationship who had passed away.

Then the family groups, descendants of each of the original ancestors were asked to stand. Some groups were large and some were small and some were not represented at all. The oldest members of the crowd were also asked to stand and it was found that Mr. D. W. Wiemers' husband of the late Trientje Bohmfalk was the oldest member present.

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven (7) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Two (2) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate hereinabove levied.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Five (5c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings, or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning; and the governing board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.  Time has marked the passing of

Last Place LaCoste Defeats D'Hanis; Castroville Beats Quihi; Rio Swamps Utopia

Pirates Lose To Cellar Team For Second Time

LACOSTE 4, D'HANIS 3

The proud Pirates of D'Hanis, who rode the crest of the Highway 90 League for nine weeks undefeated before bowing to last place Quihi a few weeks ago, bowed again to a last place team, LaCoste's Boosters, last Sunday for their third defeat of the season. Their other defeat was a thorough drubbing by the Hondo Lions on June 29 when Hondo took over the league lead.

Pronounced by many LaCoste fans as the best, most sprightly game of the season in the league, a good crowd watched the Boosters jump off to a one run lead in the second which was quickly balanced off by a D'Hanis run in the third. All other innings were scoreless until the final three when LaCoste pulled ahead by one in the seventh, and D'Hanis tied it up in the eighth only to see two Boosters cross home in the final half of the eighth. A ninth inning D'Hanis rally netted one run which was one too few as the Boosters won 4-3.

Franger of LaCoste hit a triple, matched by Biry of D'Hanis. LaCoste's Becker hit a double.

RIO MEDINA 19, UTOPIA 5

Claude Boehme struck out 16 batters last Sunday as he and his Rio Medinamates unleashed a 15 hit attack on the hapless Utopians, and graciously accepted the game on a silver platter garnished with 13 Utopia errors.

Four errors on the Rio Medina side made a game total of 17 which is getting close to the records. The game was not close, but at least reasonable, until the big seventh when Rio refused to go down and saw nine men cross the plate.

CASTROVILLE 6, QUIHI 3

Fifth place Quihi matched Castroville hit for hit but got only half as much mileage for their eight safeties as they bowed to Castro's extra base swats. M. Jagge's hurling, and contributed four errors to a 6-3 Castro victory.

Roy Bohlen banged a double and Schott a triple to put weight in the Quihi attack, but J. Ducos matched the triple and Hoog clouted a double and a homer to put the skids under the northmen. Both Hoog and Ducos hit 2 for 4 for Castroville, and Roy Bohlen of Quihi batted .500 for the day.

Balloting will start next Friday, Aug. 1, and run for three weeks to select the cream of the Highway 90 League, awards to be presented on the last day of August at home plate before the start of the first game of the playoff for the championship of the league.

County people can cast their votes for the most valuable player of their home team and another vote for the most valuable player of the entire league. Due to the unequal distribution of population, which could, for instance in a population center such as Hondo, elect an entire team of Rondoans as the league's outstanding players, no voter can vote for any of his home team men for most valuable of the league.

This system will distribute the votes of the high population centers and is calculated to make an even break for all players of the league.

Ballots will be printed in the Sports section of The Anvil Herald and must be filled in, clipped out and mailed to Marvin Grell, Secretary, Highway 90 League, Box 26, Hondo.

There is no limit to the number of ballots any voter may send in except that they must be the official ballots printed in the paper.

Date of the presentation of awards will be that of the start of a three game series when the two league leaders battle it out for the championship. Top honors will go to the team winning two out of three of the games in the playoff.

SPEAKING OF BALL GAMES — HERE'S ONE WITH 93 STRIKEOUTS

There was one ball game in which the customers really got their money's worth, in Lake Jackson where Texas two top teams battled for 26 innings before Lake Jackson beat Hi-Way Inn of Harlingen 1-0.

Incidentally, this was a softball game. The two starting pitchers worked all the way the winner fanning 49 batters while allowing 5 hits, and the loser fanning 44 and allowing 7 hits. The Lake Jackson catcher received credit for 52 put outs.

Three thousand spectators sat through three hours and 33 minutes of real ball playing.

head are acting as manager and coach.

The first matched game, will be played at Devine, Monday night, with Devine.

History

ONE HISTORICAL FACT VERIFIED

About a year ago, in an article in this paper on the early history of Medina County newspapers, we noted the fact that Hal Goslin sold The Quill to W. D. Ward & Co. on Oct. 14, 1882 at Castroville. Later The Quill demised at Castroville and Ward moved the plant to Hondo where for a while he published the Medina County News. This paper, together with the plant, was sold by him to his partners on April 12, 1884, and seems to have demised with the sale.

In our article of last year we stated in this connection:

"What disposition was made of the plant by the partners is not definitely known by this writer, but he has been told the plant was moved to Sabinal and may, therefore, have been the beginning of the now defunct Sabinal Sentinel."

This point has been definitely settled as evidenced by the following clipping from an unknown paper of unknown date found among the papers of the late Ed de Montel, Esq., and sent us recently by his son, E. C. de Montel, Esq., of Wichita Falls, Texas.

The late Hal Sevier, writer of the article, was for a number of years editor of the Sabinal Sentinel. The article is given in full because of its historical value and interest. It follows:

Sabinal, Texas — Remembering my promise to you at the Cuero convention I send you by evening mail part of an old screw composing stick, which was once used by the lamented Hal Gosling. It might be utilized as a paper weight and I hope it will be acceptable as the memento requested.

I am afraid that I am not sufficiently acquainted with the history of Gosling to write you an interesting article about his newspaper outfit, which is now in my possession, but I will endeavor to narrate the facts, which were related to me by some of his contemporaries, as I remember them.

Gosling was murdered in 1884 and at the time he was publishing the Castroville Quill. After his death the plant was moved to Hondo and its name changed to The Medina County News. How long the News was published I don't know, but in the early '90's the outfit was brought to Sabinal by W. H. Bryan, who now edits the Seguin Gazette, and has since been known as The Sabinal Sentinel. The paper changed hands several times since its establishment here and for that reason very little remains that would remind one of the man who, by reason of his charming personality, ready and sparkling wit and unparalleled bravery, was the ideal of not only the Texas press, but of every person who ever knew him. And then all of Gosling's effects, with the exception of his old G. Washington hand press (which is still doing faithful service,) a few cases of much worn brierley body, type and a font or so of antediluvian job cases, have been sold as old metal or otherwise disposed of and new material substituted.

"The old order changeth, Yielding place unto new."

The story of Gosling's assassination is no doubt familiar to the fraternity, but perhaps it is dramatic enough to bear repetition:

Gosling was a Republican editor in a Democratic state, but he was very popular notwithstanding. President Arthur appointed him United States marshal for the Western district of Texas, and he made a good officer. In 1884 he arrested the lead-

Texas papers listed below are used as news sources, and from them The Anvil Herald reports the news in other localities. Unless specifically attributed to another paper, views and opinions expressed below are those of The Anvil Herald.

NEW MASONS

Eleven new officers were installed at Devine Lodge No. 590, A. F. and A. M., according to the Devine News.

They included S. R. Malone, Worshipful Master; W. E. Davidson, Senior Warden; Clyde Ross, Junior Warden; A. W. Thompson, secretary; D. M. Howard, treasurer (re-elected); Harold Shaw, Senior Deacon; Elmo Steward, Junior Deacon; Charlie Bippert, Senior Steward; Glen Roberson, Junior Steward; George Busby, Chaplain; and Walter McAllister, Tiler.

The News also reports 14 cars of peas, eight cars of broomcorn and four cars of maize shipped out last week.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY

Last week's Atascosa Monitor quotes the Cotulla paper on a tax story — telling how delinquent tax sales netted $20,000. All but about $4,000 of that gravy stayed right in the county and the city, the rest going to the state.

So the Monitor thinks they should be doing that in Atascosa county also, which looks like a pretty good idea. There is nothing fair about taxation which does not hit all the people, but many will balk for years until they are forced.

WANTED — A WIFE

Some guy over in Uvalde county apparently puts a lot of faith in the classified ads. His ad, in the Leader-News, says simply:

WANTED: A wife. Box 535, Uvalde, Texas.

It just proves what we always say — you can find anything you want in the classifieds.

We note that the Future Farmers of Uvalde are sponsoring again a rodeo at the Livestock Exposition grounds west of the city. The Future Farmers started the event last year and are inviting all the cowboys and cowgirls of the section to join in a big rodeo parade. Rodeos will be at 7:30 July 25 and 26, will feature nine events.

LOWER ELECTRIC RATES

The Bandera Electric Cooperative, Inc., reduced its rates effective last Sunday, in some cases by 13 and a half per cent, according to the Comfort News.

Consumers can now purchase 400 kilowatt hours at one cent each for a combination of water heating and cooking. The consumer who has no water heater or range will be able to purchase 200 kilowatt hours for $1.08 less than under the old schedule, a saving of 13½ per cent.

BEER FOR THE COURT

A headline last week in the Karnes City Citation read as follows: 10 FINED FOR ILLEGAL SALE OF BEER IN COUNTY COURT

They deserve fines, trying to peddle beer in a place like that.

THE KIDS LIKE IT

Over in Bishop the Lions club decided too many members were missing meetings. So they bought a goat, which will spend a week with members who miss meetings. If a Lion does not want to keep the goat for a whole week he has the alternative of attending a "makeup" meeting in a neighboring town, according to a story in former Hondoan W. E. Newton's paper, the Bishop News.

Here in Hondo

Miss Mary Octavia Davis arrived home this week from San Antonio to spend the rest of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Davis.

Educate To Reduce Death Toll

Schools Need Traffic Safety Department For Teen-Agers

A million and a half new drivers will get behind the wheel this year. Almost all of them will be teen-agers in their third or fourth year of high school. Unless the nation's educators responsible for the training of these youths recognize the importance of safety education the new drivers will be a million and a half potential menaces to life and limb on our streets and highways.

Not only is there a responsibility for establishing driver education in the schools, but it is important that once such courses are inaugurated they will be conducted in such a way as to enhance the interest of students. The most desired type of training is actual behind-the-wheel instruction with dual-control training automobiles. Many school systems cannot yet afford such equipment, however. For them there is an alternative in conducted tours of safety and traffic agencies.

Field trips have a terrific effect on the teen-agers' minds. They see people actually working on meaningful problems. The facts are there before them, and seeing is believing.

Teen-agers are much more interested in taking an active part in things they know about and understand. This basic principle can be applied to their present record in traffic accidents. They may be aware that their record as drivers is the worst of any age group, and that casualties are mounting at a serious rate, but they aren't going to feel personally responsible for bettering their traffic record unless they have an understanding of what the traffic problems are and what can be done to solve them.

A well planned field trip might open the eyes of teen-agers and show them how they can improve their record. Let them see how their city or state copes with the traffic problem. There are several city offices or state departments that would be well worth visiting on such a field trip. A few of the more important are the traffic court, the highway department, the traffic engineer's office, and the accident record bureau.

While considering such a project, it is well to be informed about the sorts of things encountered in viewing traffic problems "from the other side of the fence."

In the highway department, plans are being drawn and studied for new construction and improvement of existing roads. Data on traffic volume, origin and destination of traffic, costs of rights-of-way and materials, and selection of routes to be built or improved may be seen by and explained to students.

If it is a state highway department, there may be a materials testing laboratory where, following experimentation, decisions are made about how road beds may be laid and what surfacing the roads should have for durability and safety. The equipment, methods and costs have a direct bearing on traffic safety.

To improve motor vehicle travel, almost every state and many large cities employ traffic engineers whose main job is to make streets and highways safer and more efficient for the drivers who use them. Here are spot maps showing where and how different types of accidents have occurred. The traffic engineer is generally responsible for installing traffic control signals, signs and pavement markings. These activities are directly related to the interests of new or would-be drivers in the teen-age group.

In the traffic court the details of serious traffic accidents are given a public hearing, with statements from those involved in an accident and witnesses who saw it or were on the scene shortly after the accident occurred. Hearing a traffic case as it is tried in court is a very valuable experience for the teen-ager.

The opportunities for teen-agers to see "traffic safety in the making" are many and varied. Any resourceful teacher can, through projects such as are suggested here, provide valuable learning experiences.

Editor's Corner

No one is in a better position to render the youth of this nation a great and humanitarian service than is the educator planning driver education in the high school. The need and value in driver training lies squarely in the fact that traffic accidents are not the result of some inevitable fate, but are caused by human failure.

Youth is inherently disrespectful of danger. This is not a weakness, but is a typical trait of the human being, particularly so of young Americans because of the freedoms they enjoy. Unfortunately, however, they too often dissipate their reckless, adventurous spirit through the operation of motor vehicles at high rates of speed and in taking chances with safety.

Traffic accident experience has proved that young drivers, 16 to 20 years of age, are involved in five times as many fatal accidents as are drivers in the 45-60 age group. These facts are indicative of an alarming situation which carries a clear-cut challenge to the high schools of the nation.

To offset our tragic annual loss in lives and property in traffic, we strongly urge acceptance of the principle, based upon the considered opinion of those with long years of experience in accident prevention, that the most effective medium for achievement of a permanent reduction of traffic accidents lies in teaching school boys and girls the intelligent and safe use of the automobile. The formative years of youth present the greatest opportunity for development of proper driver attitudes and manipulative skills.

A learned educator has stated: "The chief function of the high school is to teach our young people to do better those desirable things which they are going to do anyway." Driving is not only a desirable activity, but a necessary one in our economic life.

Driver of the car in the ditch failed to yield the right-of-way, even to an ambulance. He ran through a plainly visible stop sign, directly into the path of the ambulance, and was knocked across the road. Driver was killed, and a passenger was injured. Emergency vehicles always have the right-of-way—but at other times, too, it pays to be courteous at intersections. Failure to grant right-of-way ranked second as a cause of motor vehicle deaths in 1946. National Conservation Bureau advises: when in doubt, always yield the right-of-way.

"Not Responsible For Wife's Debts"

A young man came rushing into the Clarion office the other day and wanted me to print an ad—"right quick"—saying he won't be responsible for his wife's debts from now on, as he's leaving her for good immediately.

I allowed as how the forms were all closed up, and it was too late to take his ad. He says: "All right, Monday then"—and we agreed on Monday.

Of course, the forms weren't closed. But I had kind of an inkling of what might happen. Then Sunday he phones me, and says, kind of sheepishly: "You can forget that ad. Me and the missus have everything all patched up. And we're having a friendly glass of beer, right now."

From where I sit, if you give folks time enough to think things over, those hasty quarrels that come so often from misunderstanding will give way to tolerance and common sense.

With a magic carpet you can get the ladies from the Sultan's harem to come to your store and trade. Airborne rugs being hard to find, however, maybe you'd like to do business the easy way with folks who live right here in Medina County.

The women have something to say about the family's buying — and do about 80% of it. Be sure they know all about the stuff you have to sell — tell them through advertising in The Anvil Herald.
